This is a confidential report of the radon samples that were submitted to our laboratory for measurements of radon-222 levels. The results represent the amount of radon that was present in the air during the time of sampling. The radon is measured in our laboratory using the liquid scintillation method (EPA 402-R-92-004). This report will not be released to anyone without your permission except as required by individual state laws and guidelines.

AVERAGE RADON LEVEL (average result of two tests) : 2.0 pCi/L

THE EPA RECOMMENDS THAT YOU FIX YOUR HOME IF THE RADON LEVEL IS 4 PICOCURIES (PCi/L) OR HIGHER.

Please read the EPA Citizen's Guide to Radon at www.epa.gov/radon/pubs/citguide.html. Residents of New Jersey should read "Radon Testing and Mitigation: The Basics" at <http://njradon.org/download/mitbas.pdf>. Radon levels less than 4 pCi/L still pose a risk. You may want to take additional measurements because radon levels can vary with the seasons. You may also want to consider doing a long term test to determine the average radon concentrations over a longer period of time. If the radon level is 4.0 pCi/L or higher you should perform either a long-term test or a second short-term test. If the radon level is higher than 10 pCi/L you should perform a second short-term test immediately. If you would like to learn how to lower your radon levels, or have other questions, please contact your state radon office at (800) 237-2366.
